

artists

Marcus Ahlers
Seo young Chang
Jean-Ulrick Désert
Patrick Jambon
Anna Kostreva
Rebecca Loyche
Lucy A. Roberts
Paula Ross
Gerard Smulevich

exhibition

The essay BAUEN WOHNEN DENKEN BUILDING DWELLING THINKING written in 1951 by the German philosopher Martin Heidegger, is the springboard from which this new exhibition has been developed, considered, and framed. The timeless text was provided as an inspiration to the artists to engage their works within our living spaces. They consider the theme and one's relationship to space which is changing through building, dwelling and thinking. Curated by kate hers and Thomas Arnold

15 Sept 2011 -5 Feb 2012

group show
BAUEN WOHNEN DENKEN BUILDING DWELLING THINKING

opening

Thursday, 15 September 2011, 6-9pm

Exhibition viewing by appointment only Thur. 2-6pm, phone 0176 6825 3712

smartloft apartments & art Choriner Str. 7
10119 Berlin-Mitte
info@smartloft.de www.smartloft.de

Martin Heidegger im Schlafzimmer seiner Hütte in Todtnauberg-Rütte
Martin Heidegger in the bedroom of his hut in Todtnauberg-Rütte ©thomas arnold

